Downriver – Spokane’s oldest golf course and a favorite is nestled in tall pines along the Spokane River and Riverside State Park. Gently rolling terrain and views of the beautiful Spokane River are all part of your golfing experience. Downriver, established in 1916, has hosted many major tournaments and provides a challenge to all skill levels. Downriver’s par 71 and 6,130 yards welcome your game.

Indian Canyon – The historic Indian Canyon was designed by Henry Chandler Egan back in 1930, opening in 1935. Indian Canyon has hosted three United States Public Links Championships and the PGA Esmeralda Open in 1945, won by Bryon Nelson. The “Canyon” as it more commonly known today is steeped in history with Ben Hogan enjoying his first hole-in-one here on the fourth hole. Enjoy this hilly tree-lined course and the impressive views it boasts overlooking the city from the top of the canyon.

The Creek At Qualchan – Spokane’s newest golf course features a creek meandering throughout the course, five ponds, wooded and hilly areas, and holes with open beauty and well-protected greens. Qualchan is located in a very natural setting, and is a sanctuary for many species of birds and wildlife. Qualchan’s par 72 and 6,559 yards will give all skill levels a special golf experience..

SPOKANE CITY GOLF

CHAMPIONSHIP

Dating back to 1943, this tournament has a long history in Spokane golf. Irving Cornell won the first event, then known as the Spokane Municipal Championship. The event continued well into the 1980’s and was rekindled in 2005 by our PGA Professional staff. The Spokane City Golf Championship continues to grow both in sponsorships and attendance.
