

Mayor’s Transition Plan – Final 100 Days

Our government is built on the smooth and effective transition of power. In alignment with the joint Administration-Council Strategic Plan, One Spokane, Mayor David Condon is planning a collaborative transition process designed to facilitate continued momentum of the City of Spokane, its employees, and the administration.

The Mayor has outlined a final 100-day plan that connects City employees with new leadership, provides opportunities to set mutual goals, and reports on the successes of One Spokane. The plan bookends his 8-year term as Mayor and his initial 100-day action plan in 2012.
