Summary:

I was advised by Lt. Olsen that he had been informed that Ofc. Wilkinson pointed his pistol at a suspect related to the above incident number. He asked me to complete a use of force review on the incident. I pulled copies of the reports written, the CAD printout, and reviewed these documents. The following is a synopsis of the events:

Ofc. Wilkinson responded to the area of 913 W Cora with several officers on a report of at least two subjects in the road at that location brandishing shotguns at each other. He heard from Lt. Olson that subjects in a blue Honda parked in the parking lot that was about to leave were believed to be associated with the incident. He and other officers had no way of conducting a high risk traffic stop with police vehicles, and only had the option at that time to approach the vehicle on foot. As they approached, Ofc. Wilkinson drew his pistol but kept it at low ready. He did this for several reasons:

1) The subjects and vehicle were thought to be invovled with the incident that had occurred where subjects were pointing guns at each other.
2) He had concern that the subjects in the vehicle could be armed with the weapon(s) that were seen by the complainant.
3) As they approached the vehicle, he gave verbal commands to the driver (later identified as Brandon Peterson) but the driver did not comply.

Peterson got out of the vehicle and appeared to be looking for a direction to flee the area on foot. He turned south, walked a couple of steps, saw officers, and turned back north. He started walking, saw Ofc. Wilkinson and other officers, returned to the car, and reached into it. Ofc. Wilkinson was giving continual verbal commands to Peterson. He identified himself as a police officer, he told him to stop moving, and he told him to get down on the ground. Peterson ignored all of these commands and continued to reach into the car. Ofc. Wilkinson was immediately concerned that Peterson was reaching into the vehicle to access a firearm. Up to this point, Peterson was not complying with orders given by officers, appeared to be looking for ways to escape, and had re-entered a vehicle that was belived to be involved in the incident where shotguns were brandished. Fearing for his safety and the safety of fellow officers, Ofc. Wilkinson raised his pistol and pointed it at Peterson; however, he maintained index positioning for his trigger finger. He did so for the following reasons:

1) He was at the call because there was mention of two subjects brandishing shotguns at the call.
2) He was advised by Lt. Olsen, who had been on scene investigating longer than he had, that the subjects in the blue Honda (including Peterson) were involved in the incident.
3) Their involvement meant there was an increased likelihood that a firearm was in the vehicle.
4) Peterson was originally in the vehicle when they approached but exited when he saw officers. His movements made him believe he was attempting to flee. When he saw that he had no avenue of escape, he returned to the vehicle and appeared to be accessing something.
5) He could not see what Peterson was accessing in the vehicle.
6) Up to this point, Peterson made no attempt to follow orders given to him by officers.
7) Officers were approaching the vehicle on foot, with no cover and in completely exposed positions. If Peterson produced a weapon from inside the vehicle, he would have a decided advantage in engaging the officers before they could react.

He saw Peterson appear to drop something inside the vehicle and walk away from the vehicle.

He could see that Peterson had nothing in his hands, so he immediately re-holstered, approached Peterson, and took arm control of him and placed him in handcuffs. He did this while other officers on the passenger side of the car made contact with the other occupants in the vehicle.

BlueTeam chain routings

Oct 13, 2013 21:33: Sent from Sergeant Bradford J Hallock [367/11395] to Lieutenant Dean E Sprague [093/10712]

Instructions:

Pointing of firearm use of force for your review.

Reviewed by Lieutenant Dean E Sprague [093/10712] on Oct 14, 2013 at 20:56

Decision: Approved

Reviewer comment:

This was an appropriate use of force given the specific circumstances of this incident (multiple articulate and named witnesses describing shotguns, positive identification of suspects and the behaviors of Peterson when confronted by police). The potential of a violent encounter with firearms was great at the moment that Ofc. Wilkinson chose to address the suspect by pointing his duty weapon at him.

Use of force was within policy, state law and use of force guidelines in this case.

CC(s) of this routing were sent to the following:

Oct 14, 2013 20:56: Sent from Lieutenant Dean E Sprague [093/10712] to Captain David W Richards [119/10779]

Instructions:

Forward through patrol chain of command.

Reviewed by Captain David W Richards [119/10779] on Oct 16, 2013 at 09:04

Decision: Approved

Reviewer comment:

Officer Wilkinson had recieved information from officers (Lt. Olsen, specifically) that the vehicle in question was involved in the incident where a firearm had been seen/displayed. Officer Wilkinson utilized officer safety tactics to contact the driver/occupants of the vehicle. The suspect would not comply with Officer Wilkinson's orders and directives. In fact, he was behaving in and around the vehicle in such a manner that lead Officer Wilkinson to believe that the suspect was attempting to manipulate a firearm or weapon inside the vehicle. Officer Wilkinson's decision to deploy his sidearm and point it at the suspect was appropriate and within policy considering the totality of the circumstances that he was presented with at that time. Once he confirmed that the suspect was not armed with a firearm, he properly reholstered his firearm and took the suspect into custody.

NARRATIVE

On 10/11/2013 at about 2106 I and Ofc. Harvey responded to the area of 913 W Cora to a report of a person with a weapon.

While enroute we were advised that there was a confrontation between two men with shotguns in the street.

When I arrived, I located Aleetha Kapelke, one of the complainants. She directed officers toward a nearby apartment building where the suspect supposedly lived (top floor of building "A", southeast corner apartment, same complex). Officers located Joshua Miller, Katherine Mullins, and Brandon Peterson in a vehicle there, about to leave. All three were detained pending investigation.

Aleetha told me that she had been in her apartment when she heard yelling outside and went out to see. Suspect #1 (male, possibly Hispanic, 5'08-6'00", white shirt with dark stripes, head was shaved with hair on top drawn into a long ponytail) was on Cora directly in front of the apartments under the street light (providing a clear view of him) with a shotgun. He was yelling "I'll shoot you, motherfucker". Suspect #2 (white male, bald, black sweatshirt) was on the front porch of 908 W Cora to the west. S#2 called to S#1 "I got bullets in my gun, bitch, come on back". S#1 responded "your son gave me the bullets for my gun, bitch".

Aleetha said they continued yelling profanities and threats at each other, but as people poured out of the apartments and surrounding homes, S#1 left and walked back to the northeast to building "A" (described above). As soon as she and her husband (with her the entire time) saw the gun, they called 911.

I drove Aleetha across the parking lot to where Joshua Miller was detained. Katherine Mullins was standing nearby, also detained. Aleetha told me that Miller was the man she had seen with the shotgun (S#1). When officers turned Miller to face my patrol car, she positively identified him, telling me she was absolutely certain it was he with the gun in the street. She said Mullins was with Miller at the time of the confrontation in the street, but had not had a weapon.

I contacted Troy Kapelke (Aleetha's husband). He said he had been with his wife inside and heard yelling outside. They went out together and he observed exactly the same situation Aleetha described to me.

Troy said S#1 (male, possibly Hispanic, heavy build, white shirt with dark stripes, head was shaved with hair on top drawn into a long ponytail) was on Cora directly in front of the apartments under the street light (providing a clear view of him) with a shotgun. He was yelling "I'll shoot you, motherfucker". Suspect #2 (white male, bald, black sweatshirt) was on the front porch of 908 W Cora to the west. S#2 called to S#1 "I got bullets in my gun, bitch, come on back". S#1 responded "your son gave me the bullets for my gun, bitch".

Troy said the men continued yelling profanities and threats at each other, then S#1 left and walked back to the northeast to building "A" (described above). As soon as he and Aleetha (with her the entire time) saw S#1 with the gun, they called 911.

Aleetha and Troy did not know who the male at 908 W Cora (S#2) was. Officers attempted contact at the address but the occupants, including Daja Varnell, said there was nothing wrong and no victims in the home. Michael Castaner was contacted (hiding on the hillside behind the house) but said he had not been home at the time of the confrontation. No victim was found, no S#2 found, no further information from the occupants of 908 W Cora, as they were uncooperative.

Miller, Mullins, and Peterson were all booked into jail on unrelated warrants.

NARRATIVE

On Friday October 11, 2013 at 2102 hours I responded to the report of two males pointing Shot Guns at each other.

When I arrived on scene I was informed by Lt. Olsen that a Blue Honda was about to leave the apartment complex and that the occupants of the Honda were associated with the Shotgun call. Myself and several other officers began to conduct a modified High Risk Stop. The vehicle was backed into a parking spot preventing officers from getting behind the vehicle. One group of officer approached the vehicle from the passenger's side and detained the two occupants from that side. I approached the vehicle from the driver's side. The driver of the vehicle was the only occupant on the driver's side. The driver, who was later identified as Brandon Peterson, got out of the vehicle and began to walk around. It looked like he was looking for a direction to run. He first turned to the south, took two steps and saw officers approaching from that direction, he then turned and began to walk to the north. He then observed myself and other officers approaching from that direction. At this point I had my pistol out and in the low ready position. The whole time I was yelling orders for Brandon to get on the ground. Brandon continued to disregard my lawful commands. He then opened the door to his vehicle and began to reach into the vehicle. I believed that one of the Shotguns involved in the incident was probably inside the vehicle. I was concerned that Brandon was reaching into the vehicle for the shotgun. I feared that if Brandon produced a weapon from inside the vehicle myself or other officers could be seriously injured if not killed. I then pointed my gun at Brandon. I maintained my trigger finger in an index position. Brandon appeared to drop something inside the vehicle. Then Brandon walked away from the vehicle. I then took arm control of Brandon and detained him in handcuffs (D.L.).

I then read Brandon his Constitutional Rights. Brandon stated that he understood his rights and he agreed to waive those rights and answer my questions. Brandon said that he had come to the apartment complex to contact his girlfriend who was having a bad day. Brandon denied seeing anyone with a shot gun. A name check revealed that Brandon had a warrant for his arrest. I placed Brandon under arrest for his warrant. I searched him incident to arrest, and then transported him to the Spokane County Jail.

While Brandon was being processed for booking a small bindle of a white crystal substance was discovered in his left front pocket. I field tested the White Crystal substance and it tested positive for Meth.

I booked Brandon for PCS Meth and settled out the Warrant. I then transported the Meth to the property facility where I placed it on property as evidence. i also completed a PC Affidavit to support my charge.
