Recipient's Comments/Response: Sergeant Eckersley stopped a suspicious vehicle and was assisted by Officer McMurtrey. They both felt they might have a kidnapping or sexual assault crime based on actions of male driver who was wearing very little clothing and the non-responsive female hidden in back seat. Officers attempted to get control of David at the driver's door. He refused verbal commands to hand the keys over and unlock the door. He pushed and swatted at Officer McMurtrey's hand. Officer McMurtrey used 2-4 open palm strikes to David's face in an attempt to gain control. David subsequently drove off striking a police car and engaging in a pursuit. He was located after a K-9 search. At that time Officer McMurtrey pointed his firearm at David to gain control and arrest him. Open Palm Strikes The force used caused no injury or complaint of injury. The suspicious circumstance/kidnapping/sexual assault the officer were investigating were serious felonies and required them to control David and his actions as the victim was in the back seat. David was resistive and assaultive towards the officers. The use of force was appropriate and within policy. Pointing of a Firearm Officer McMurtrey was assisting in a K-9 track of David who had shown his violent propensity by striking a police car and engaging in a pursuit. He also was resistive and assaultive at first contact. The pointing of a firearm assisted Officer McMurtrey in gaining control and arrest of David without injury. The use of force was appropriate and within policy. Lt. Arnzen 095

Officer McMurtrey's uses of force in this incident, open palm strikes and pointing of his firearm, were both justified and within policy during the specific circumstances in which they were deployed. I stopped the vehicle for a traffic violation after observing the driver park on the sidewalk. A female passenger began to step out and then got back in the vehicle which proceeded W/B towards Monroe on Maxwell. Upon contact I saw the driver was only wearing a shirt, underwear, and an ankle monitor. He was extremely nervous and uncooperative. The female that I had seen was now concealed under a blanket on the floorboard of the rear passenger seat area. I could not see if there was anyone else under the blanket with her, keeping her down.

The driver stalled and was reluctant to turn off his vehicle. He refused to hand me the keys. He denied there being any females or any other passengers in the vehicle. He refused to move the blanket and I directed the female to sit up so I could make sure she was OK and she did not move. I knew the female had not gotten out of the vehicle.

His behavior, demeanor, lack of clothing, ankle monitor, and deception about the female caused me extreme concern that she was being held in the car or directed to stay under the blanket. I believed that she may have been being held against her will or the victim of a recent sexual assault.

The suspect kept scanning for an escape route. Officer McMurtrey arrived and observed the same subject and witnessed our dialogue. He was clearly aware of the situation as he asked if the male was kidnapping the female. I was having the same thoughts and we had not had time to discuss the situation or even leave the driver's door of the vehicle. Officer McMurtrey moved his patrol car to the front of the suspect vehicle to try and block him from leaving with the female.

The suspect took off in his vehicle, intentionally striking Officer McMurtrey's vehicle and causing significant damage to the door. His desperation to escape added to our fears for the females' safety. Officer McMurtrey initiated a pursuit in his vehicle and a 2nd marked unit immediately fell in line. I was not in a pursuit authorized vehicle and did not pursue.

Officer McMurtrey initiated and I allowed the pursuit to continue for the following reasons:

Crime: We believed the suspect could be involved in the crime of 2nd degree kidnapping and the victim was still under his control inside his vehicle.

Threat: The driver was observed only wearing his underwear and an ankle monitor. He would speak over us to prevent us from communicating with the female under the blanket. We had no way of communicating with her to verify if she was free to leave or observe her physically for injuries. We believed she was in danger by the suspect who was in control of the vehicle and she would be in extreme danger if we allowed him to leave with her in the car.

Resistance: The driver hesitated in turning off the ignition and removing the key when directed to do so. He completely refused to hand me the keys to prevent him from fleeing the scene. He refused to unlock the doors so we could check on the welfare of the female inside. He refused commands to keep the keys out of the ignition when he started it again and he disobeyed commands to stay there and turn the ignition back off. He physically resisted Officer McMurtrey's attempts to grab the keys and prevent the driver from putting the keys in the ignition and the vehicle in gear. He drove away while I was still holding him in left arm control. The driver purposely accelerated into Officer McMurtrey's patrol car causing heavy damage and fled at high rates of speeds from uniformed Officers in marked patrol cars.

Based on the overall circumstances and observations of David McKinsey-Pace's bizarre behavior, I believe Officer McMurtrey was reasonable in his belief that the female was being held against her will by David. I had also come to the same conclusion with nearly all the same information available to Officer McMurtrey. Therefore, based on the circumstances described above, I believe Officer McMurtrey was justified and within policy on his use of force of 2-4 open hands strikes to his face of David McKinsey-Pace. I also believe he was justified and within policy on his initiation and continuation of the pursuit for the perceived crime of 2nd degree kidnapping. For the collision involving Officer McMurtrey's vehicle I would find this to be unpreventable as it was a parked in that location as a necessary tactic to try and control the scene and prevent a pursuit. The suspects' actions alone caused the collision.

Following the pursuit, and during a K9 track, the suspect attempted to escape apprehension by climbing over a fence towards Officer McMurtrey's location. Officer McMurtrey's original report indicated that he pointed his firearm at the suspect. From Lt. Arnzen and then at my request, Officer McMurtrey wrote an addition to the incident to further describe the reasoning behind use of force. I viewed his body camera video that showed Officer McMurtrey address the suspect who had quickly jumped to the top of a fence while trying to evade capture by the tracking K9. Officer McMurtrey did point his issued handgun at the suspect for approximately 6 seconds until the suspect came over the fence and could be taken into custody. During that time Officer McMurtrey was in control and giving commands and direction to the suspect. Under the circumstances known to Officer McMurtrey at the time, and detailed in his report I found his actions to be reasonable and within policy.

In regards to the palm strikes mentioned previously, McKinsey-Pace did not suffer any injuries and did not have any marks. He did not complain of any injuries. Photographs should have been taken at the scene to show the lack of injuries, however his booking photograph from that day confirms that there were none.

NARRATIVE

On 100915 at approximately 0115 hours, I responded to the intersection of Maxwell and Monroe to assist SPD Sgt. B. Eckersley (L235) with a traffic stop.

Upon my arrival, I approached the vehicle, a 2005 Dodge Neon, WA LIC# AVA3965. Upon approach, Sgt. Eckersley advised he saw a female under a blanket in the back seat.

I saw the female and called out to her. She was in the fetal position in the back seat. She was completely covered with a blanket. She was not moving. I immediately feared that the female had been harmed or was being held against her will.

I tried to open the back door to check the welfare of the female. The door was locked. As soon as I tried to open the door, the driver started the vehicle. Sgt. Eckersley warned him to hit it off, with no compliance.

I ran to my patrol car, a marked police vehicle (#362). I pulled it in front of the suspect's vehicle in an attempt to prevent him from driving away, which was my immediate fear.

I heard Sgt. Eckersley yelling at the driver. I jumped out of my patrol car. I was wearing police issued uniform with badge and patches affixed. I yelled at the driver to turn the car off as well. He did not. I reached in to try and take the keys from the vehicle. The driver's window was down. The driver then grabbed my hand and batted it away from the keys. At that time, he tried to place the vehicle in to drive. I grabbed for his hands.

I then pushed the driver back in to his seat by his head. My intent was to distract him from placing the vehicle in to drive. He pushed back against my hands and still tried to place the vehicle in to gear.

I delivered approximately 2-4 open hand strikes to his face for the following reasons:

Crime:

Failure to comply, we were investigating a possible kidnapping and were trying to conduct a welfare check of the person that was unresponsive and wrapped in a blanket in the back seat.

Threat:

The driver was wearing only his underwear, was barefoot and had an ankle monitor on his ankle. It was possible that he was also committing the crime of Escape. He was attempting to drive away in a vehicle. Vehicles weigh over 3500 lbs and can be deadly if used to strike a person. The vehicle had not been searched, and it was possible that the driver had access to a weapon, well within his reach and out of our sight.

Resistance:

The driver was using the vehicle's door to prevent us from getting to him to prevent him from running in the vehicle. The driver batted my hands away twice when I tried to remove the keys from the ignition of the vehicle, which he had started after Sgt. Eckersley told him to turn it off.

The strikes had little effect. At that time, I was standing on the driver's side, about parallel with the front wheel. He placed the vehicle in to drive and accelerated. The driver drove directly in to my marked police vehicle, which was blocking his path of escape. He could have turned to the vehicle's left to avoid the crash, but drove directly in to my patrol car. My driver's door was open. His vehicle collided with the driver's front side and door, causing severe damage to my patrol car.

The driver then sped away SB on Monroe. He still had the female inside his car.

At that time, I believed that the female was in danger. She was unresponsive to our verbal commands. She was wrapped in a fetal position in the back seat. We were unable to get to her before the driver sped away.

I jumped into my patrol car and activated my emergency lights. I engaged the driver in a vehicle pursuit. He darked out his lights. When he initially began the pursuit (Eluding), the driver sped away while I was struggling with him at the driver's door. This placed me in great danger of being struck by the vehicle, due to his reckless abandon.

The vehicle traveled EB on Augusta to Post and then NB. At the time, the vehicle was several blocks ahead of mine. I had my emergency lights and sirens activated.

The vehicle turned WB on Indiana and then sped W on Northwest Blvd. I estimated the vehicle's speed to be in excess of 60 MPH, based on my patrol car's speed and that fact that I was losing distance on the vehicle.

There was no traffic and the roads were dry. The weather was cloudy.

Just past Monroe and NW BLVD, two other patrol cars entered the pursuit. At that time, I pulled over to the side of the road, about two blocks W of Monroe, due to the fact that my vehicle had heavy damage.

Officers then alerted that they located the suspect vehicle in the alley behind the Medicine Shoppe, 1300 W Northwest Blvd. I drove to that location and assisted K9 Officer Gorman with tracking the subject.

It was not until that time, that I was able to activate my body camera, due to the situation being tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving.

We tracked with the K9. We located a female hiding under the front porch of 1418 W Knox. We simultaneously learned via radio that she was likely the protected female on a DV protection order. She was protected from the named driver, David McKinsey-Pace. Officer Valencia, while clearing behind the K9-s track, observed the female hiding under the porch. We coaxed her out, and I conducted a pat down for weapons with none found. Officer Valencia then took her to be interviewed.

Officers Gorman, Briggs, Lesser and I continued tracking with the K9 for the suspect.

Officer Gorman alerted me that he believed the suspect may be hiding behind the back fence in the back yard of 1518 W. Knox. See Officer Gorman's report relating to his K9 behavior and track.

As Officer Gorman circled around to clear the yard, McKinsey-Pace tried to jump the fence. I was standing on the other side.

I directed my firearm at him and told him to get on the ground. I grabbed him from the fence and pulled him on to the ground and in to the prone cuffing position. He was then taken in to custody.

Other officers booked him in to jail.

I informed Sgt. Meyer of the use of force.

McKinsey-Pace was booked for DVOPV and attempt to elude. I am also adding a charge of 2nd Degree Malicious Mischief due to the fact that he intentionally used his vehicle to ram through my patrol car in order to escape us. This caused sever damage to a government vehicle, rendering it out of service.

Reference the listed call, K9 Officer Gorman and I took the suspect in to custody in the yard of 1518 W. Knox.

I was directed by Officer Gorman to hold the East perimeter of the yard while he tracked with the K9 into the back yard.

The concern was that the suspect could escape the K9 by jumping the fence. I was the containment.

When Officer Gorman and his K9 entered the back yard, the suspect climbed the fence. I drew my firearm while he was on top of the fence. I pointed my firearm at him for the following reasons:

Crime:

We were investigating a possible kidnapping, had probable cause to arrest the suspect for Eluding, Malicious mischief (ramming a patrol car) an DVOPV.

Threat:

The suspect showed the lengths he was willing to go to elude capture by ramming a patrol car with his vehicle. He acted with no regard for civilian and police officer's safety by driving his car in a reckless manner in an attempt to evade capture. He was unsearched at that time. I did not know what weapons he was in possession of at that time. He had been hiding behind a fence and I caught him by surprise. The fact that he was still attempting to evade capture in a residential neighborhood was concerning to me, because I did not know what he would do or attempt to do to keep from being detained. I was the only officer with him at that time.

Resistance:

He was still in the act of evading capture. He had ran in a vehicle at a high rate of speed, rammed a patrol car and then fled on foot. He ignored numerous K9 PA announcements to surrender and was hopping a fence to further evade capture.

On 100915, at 0115 hrs, I observed a maroon colored Dodge Neon (Wa license # AVA3965) driving W/B on Maxwell at Howard. The vehicle drove up on the north sidewalk of Maxwell and stopped so that half of the vehicle was in the lane of travel and the other half on the sidewalk. The rear passenger door opened. I observed a female step halfway out of the car. She was wearing light colored print leggings. She immediately got back into the vehicle and it continued W/B on Maxwell. I saw the rear tail lights did not work. I stopped the vehicle for stopped/standing on roadway and defective equipment. I was driving an unmarked Ford Expedition equipped with emergency lights and sirens. I was wearing a tactical vest adorned with "Police" on the front and back panels and equipped with radio, flashlight, handcuffs, and spare magazines.

Upon contact with the driver I saw the driver was a male wearing boxer-brief underwear and no pants. He had an ankle monitor on his right foot with no shoes or socks. The female could not be seen inside the vehicle and there was a blanket covering her on the rear floorboard. The male identified himself as David McKinsey-Pace with a Washington State Id card. I asked David about the female concealed under the blanket and he insisted that there were no other people in the car. Officer McMurtrey responded to assist. Officer McMurtrey was wearing the standard patrol uniform jumpsuit and driving a fully marked black and white patrol SUV equipped with emergency lights and sirens.

I asked David to remove the keys from the ignition and at first he reluctantly complied. I knew the female I had seen earlier was under the blanket. I did not know if she was hiding on her own or if she was forced to do so. David driving while wearing only his underwear made me consider if a sexual assault had taken place. He was very nervous and glanced around beyond me as if looking for an escape route. I directed him to hand me the car keys and he just stalled by repeating that he did not understand why I was talking to him.

I asked David to move the blanket so I could see the female and David put the keys back in the ignition and started the vehicle. The more I questioned him about the female in the back the more nervous and fidgety he became. I observed Officer McMurtrey move his patrol vehicle to the front of David's vehicle to block him from leaving the area with the female. I also could not see clearly enough in the vehicle to see if there was anyone else under the blanket with her. The whole situation, his demeanor, lack of clothing, and ankle monitor made me feel very uncomfortable and concerned.

David refused to comply with several commands to turn off the vehicle and remove the keys and he was clearly preparing to take off. He was very nervous and would not answer questions. I was extremely concerned about the welfare of the female and believed she was being held against her will. I believed that what I had seen earlier might have been her trying to leave the vehicle. Based on David's bizarre behavior I believed that he was likely holding the female against her will. I was very concerned about her welfare and was not going to let him leave with her before until I could check on her health and safety. Officer McMurtrey asked something about whether or not he was holding her hostage. David immediately became frantic and started trying to put the car in gear and looking for his escape path.

Officer McMurtrey attempted to turn off the ignition and remove David McKinsey from the vehicle. I grabbed his left hand and attempted to gain arm control. I repeatedly yelled at him to stop and turn the car off. David was able to put the car in drive and accelerated forward and to his left causing Officer McMurtrey to have to jump backwards to avoid being struck. I did not see exactly how close he got or if Officer McMurtrey was struck because I was focused on David's left arm as he drove away and I was holding him. I did not want to get grabbed onto, dragged, or ran over so I let go. David punched the gas and ran into Officer McMurtrey's vehicle causing significant damage by bending the driver's side door all the way forward. Once he navigated around the patrol car, David took off at a high rate of speed and turned S/B on Monroe. Officer McMurtrey began to pursue and another fully marked patrol car joined in the pursuit at Maxwell. My vehicle is not a Department authorized pursuit vehicle so I turned off Monroe as soon as the 2nd vehicle engaged in the pursuit. I advised units in the area of the significant suspicious details about the female in the back seat under the blanket.

The pursuit went a short distance when Officers lost sight of it near Maple/Knox (see their reports). The driver and female passenger were located a short distance away. I responded to the final stop location and contacted David and his female passenger who was identified as [REDACTED] #1a. David said he ran because he did not want to get arrested for being with [REDACTED] #1a. He admitted that it was a stupid thing to do and didn't have anything else to say. I contacted [REDACTED] #1a and asked her about the suspicious circumstances with her under the blanket and what happened prior to and after the stop.

She said that she and David live in the car together. There is a no contact order between them and he is not supposed to be around her. He has an ankle monitor because of a recent DV between them. She said they were pulling over to look for an outlet to charge his ankle monitor. He was in his underwear because they sleep in the car. She said she hid in the back seat under the blanket because she did not want him to get in trouble. She denied that he ever forced her to be with him or hide. She was scared when he took off and just laid there for a short time before sitting up and looking around. When they finally stopped she got out and ran with him because she loves him. She stopped and hid a short distance from the vehicle. [REDACTED] #1a was homeless and so she was transported to a local shelter by officer B. Spolski.

Officer McMurtrey completed the face sheet since he witnessed the majority of the eluding. See his report for more details.

On 100915 at 0115 hours I was responding to assist Sgt. Eckersley on a traffic stop on Mission to the east of Monroe. Ofc. McMurtrey was already on scene assisting. I was responding from north on Monroe traveling south bound. As I passed through the intersection of Monroe and Indiana I saw a dark colored sedan make a wide and erratic high speed turn from Mission onto south bound Monroe. At that same time I heard Ofc. McMurtrey advise over the radio the vehicle they had stopped just took off from them and struck his car door and almost struck him in the process. Sgt. Eckersley advised there was a woman hiding in the back seat of the vehicle who appeared to be being held against her will.

Based on the attempted assault on a Police Officer, the damage to city property, and the possibility of an abduction I activated my overhead emergency lights and sirens in an attempt to pursue the fleeing vehicle. I was approximately three blocks behind the vehicle when I activated my over head lights and sirens. I could see the vehicle was driving without any headlights or taillights (Blacked out). I saw the vehicle turn east onto Sinto, cutting the corner on the turn and striking the curb. Ofc. McMurtrey turned from Mission onto Monroe in front of me and I took over as second in the pursuit.

As I turned onto Sinto I could not see the vehicle in front of me which indicated the vehicle had turned off of Sinto on Post. I saw the vehicle heading north on Post then turn west on Indiana. As I turned west onto Indiana I could see the vehicle was approximately three blocks ahead of me traveling at a high rate of speed. Ofc. McMurtrey pulled his damaged vehicle over as Cpl Busch turned from Monroe onto Northwest Blvd. I saw the vehicle accelerate the veer into oncoming lanes of traffic before it turned off of Northwest blvd south west in the area of Cedar or Mansfield. I elected to check for the vehicle on w/b Mansfield however when I turned off of Northwest Blvd the vehicle was no where in sight.

I began to check the area for the vehicle and was advised by Cpl Busch he had located the vehicle in an alley to the south of Mansfield in the 1300 block. The vehicle was unoccupied so I took a perimeter position at Maple and Nora while a K9 track was conducted. Both occupants of the vehicle were subsequently located during the track.

I CERTIFY (OR DECLARE) UNDER PENALTY OF PERJURY UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON THAT THE FOREGOING IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

On 100915 at approx 0118 hrs, I responded to the area of Monroe/Indiana to assist Sgt Eckersley with a traffic stop. While enroute, I heard Ofc McMurtrey arrive on scene with him. Shortly after, Ofc McMurtrey advised over the radio that the driver of the vehicle David McKinsey tried to run him over and rammed his patrol vehicle. The vehicle fled at a high rate of speed. Officers lost sight of the vehicle. It was located shortly after, at 0121hrs, in the alley behind 1428 W Knox. The vehicle was found unoccupied and crashed into the garage.

I deployed SPD K9 Axl for the following reasons-

McKinsey was now wanted for 2nd Assault and Eluding a Police Vehicle.

McKinsey had already shown he is a high level threat to the public and responding Officers. He already attempted to run over Ofc McMurtrey, and fled in a high speed pursuit. A check of his arrest history showed a very recent arrest for 1st degree Armed Robbery. It was obvious that McKinsey was going to continue to evade arrest unless located by the K9. Both McKinsey and the female passenger fled from the vehicle in an unknown direction.

I parked my vehicle at the east end of the alley and walked in with SPD K9 Axl. While walking towards the vehicle on the west end of the alley, K9 Axl had a huge change of behavior behind 1418 W Knox. K9 Axl located the purse of the female that fled from the vehicle. The purse was in some taller grass, on the alley side of the fence into 1418 W Knox. Since it was obvious that was the last known location of the suspects, I started tracking from there. I placed K9 Axl on that track, and made a loud K9 Announcement. I announced that I was the Police, that we were tracking for the suspects, and that the suspects needed to give up immediately or they will be located by the dog and contacted. I heard no response.

From the purse, I gave K9 Axl the command to track, and he did so immediately. I could tell by his breathing and body language that he was actively tracking the suspect(s). We tracked south, around the east side of the house and into the front yard. K9 Axl also located a female shoe in the backyard, and one on the side of the house. Once in the front yard, we circled towards the west side of the house. Almost immediately we came back to the front yard, and K9 Axl showed body language that we were close to a suspect. Ofc Valencia looked under the front porch and observed the female hiding. She crawled out and was detained without incident. No contact was made.

While the female was being detained, a homeowner called in to report a suspicious male jumping fences at 1501 W Mansfield. The called described the McKinsey, so we hopped over there to catch up to him.

We checked the yard of 1501 W Mansfield, he was not in there but K9 Axl showed body language as if scent was in the yard. K9 Axl was showing scent on the west side of the back yard, so we went next door to the yard of 1507 W Mansfield. From there, we tracked from the front yard, southbound along the east side of the house and into the back yard. We continued to the alley, then jumped a fence into the back yard of 1514 W Knox. We continued south along the west side of the house and into the front yard of 1514 W Knox. Once in the front yard, K9 Axl showed that he wanted to jump the fence into the back yard of 1518 W Knox. He was showing high interest in the corner of the fencing that separated 1514 and 1518 W Knox. I left Ofc McMurtrey at that corner, and went around to the west side of 1518 and entered a gate into the back yard. As soon and K9 Axl entered the yard, his body language showed we were very close to McKinsey. As we worked through the yard and to the corner of the fence, McKinsey jumped up from behind a bush and started to climb the fence into the front yard. Ofc McMurtrey was there and took him into custody.

K9 Axl didn't contact McKinsey. See other Officers reports for further.

On 10-9-15 at 0118 hours I heard Sgt. Eckersely advise, via radio, that the car he had stopped was fleeing and had run over a patrol car door. The stop was at Maxwell and Monroe, and I was responding from the area of Monroe and Shannon, driving a fully marked SPD patrol car (#470), and wearing the uniform of the day. I heard someone say that the car was last seen going east bound on Sinto.

I turned east bound onto Nora from Monroe, and could see the suspect vehicle (WA/AVA3965) coming straight at me, from Wall, with no lights on. I immediately activated my overheard emergency lights. The vehicle swerved onto Lincoln and went north. I followed, and saw the car turn onto w/b Indiana without stopping for the stop sign.

The car continued w/b on Indiana, still with no lights on. I paced it at about 70 mph, when it swerved s/b off of Northwest Blvd, around Knox.

A couple of minutes later I located the car, unoccupied, in the alley between Walnut and Cedar, north of Knox. It was still running and had struck the corner of a detached garage on the south side of the alley.

I took photographs of the suspect vehicle, and stood by with it until relieved by Ofc. Bode.

This corporal heard radio broadcast that channel 1 was restricted for a vehicle pursuit. As I switched over to channel 1 I heard officers saying the vehicle rammed his car door. I was close to the area.

The driver of the vehicle eventually bailed out of the vehicle in an alley of the 1500 block of W Mansfield. As a perimeter was being set up, I went over to the original crash scene which was the intersection of Maxwell and Monroe to take pictures.

I photographed the scene there collecting pieces of a sideview mirror I assumed belonged to the suspects vehicle. Our officers vehicle continued with the chase so it was not there at the intersection.

I went over to where the chase ended and took photos of the damage to the driver side door and fender of the patrol car. I then took photos of the damage to the suspects vehicle, the missing side mirror on the passenger door and the damage to the garage it hit as it came to a stop.

The defendant was located in a yard nearby.

I gave the mirror pieces of the suspects vehicle to Officer Fairbanks who was taking care of the impound.

STATE OF WASHINGTON COUNTY OF SPOKANE

REPORT NUMBER: 15-355516

DEFENDANT: McKinsey-Pace, David D DOB: 6-10-1993 B/M

The undersigned, a law enforcement officer, competent to testify, states as follows: That he/she believes a crime was committed by the above named defendant/defendants in the City and County of Spokane, State of Washington, because:

On 10-9-2015 at approximately 0115 hours, SPD Sgt. Eckersley initiated a traffic stop of a suspicious vehicle. Based on the subsequent investigation, the following information was found:

Sgt. B. Eckersley can testify to:

On 10-9-2015, at 0115 hrs, he observed a maroon colored Dodge Neon (Wa license # AVA3965) driving W/B on Maxwell at Howard. The vehicle drove up on the north sidewalk of Maxwell and stopped so that half of the vehicle was in the lane of travel and the other half on the sidewalk. The rear passenger door opened. He observed a female step halfway out of the car. She was wearing light colored print leggings. She immediately got back into the vehicle and the continued W/B on Maxwell. He saw the rear tail lights did not work. He stopped the vehicle for stopped/standing on roadway and defective equipment. Sgt. Eckersley was driving an unmarked Ford Expedition equipped with emergency lights and sirens. He was wearing a tactical vest adorned with "Police" on the front and back panels and equipped with radio, flashlight, handcuffs, and spare magazines.

Upon contact with the driver he saw it was a male wearing boxer-brief underwear and no pants. He had an ankle monitor on his right foot. The female could not be seen inside the vehicle and there was a blanket covering her on the rear floorboard. The male identified himself as David McKinsey-Pace with a Washington State Id card. He asked David about the female concealed under the blanket and he insisted that there were no other people in the car. Officer McMurtrey responded to assist. Officer McMurtrey was wearing the standard patrol uniform jumpsuit and driving a fully marked black and white patrol SUV equipped with emergency lights and sirens. Sgt. Eckersley asked David to remove the keys from the ignition and at first he reluctantly complied. He asked David to move the blanket so he could see the female and David put the keys back in the ignition and started the vehicle. He observed Officer McMurtrey move his patrol vehicle to the front of David's vehicle to block him from leaving the area with the female. David refused to comply with several commands to turn off the vehicle and remove the keys. Sgt. Eckersley was extremely concerned about the welfare of the female and believed she was being held against her will.

Sgt. Eckersley and Officer McMurtrey attempted to turn off the ignition and remove David McKinsey from the vehicle. David was able to put the car in drive and accelerated into Officer McMurtrey's vehicle causing significant damage by bending the driver's side door all the way forward. David took off at a high rate of speed with Officer McMurtrey and another fully marked patrol car directly behind him.

Officer C. McMurtrey can testify to:

- 1) Being a police officer with the Spokane Police Department and on duty on 10-9-15 at approximately 0115 hours.
- 2) Responding to assist Sgt. Eckersley with a motor vehicle stop at Monroe and Maxwell in Spokane City, WA.
- 3) Driving a marked police vehicle, #362, which is a Ford Explorer SUV fully marked with police insignia, black and white coloring and emergency blue and red lighting.
- 4) Wearing department issued uniform with police badge and patches affixed.
- 5) Upon approach of the vehicle on the passenger side, being alerted by Sgt. Eckersley that there was a female under a blanket in the back seat.
- 6) That the female, #1a (later identified) was under a blanket in the fetal position and not moving.
- 7) Believing that the female was being held against her will.
- 8) That the driver started the vehicle when questioned about the female in the back.
- 9) That Sgt. Eckersley told him numerous times to shut off the vehicle.
- 10) Placing his patrol vehicle in front of the defendant's vehicle to prevent him from escaping.
- 11) Approaching the defendant, who was driving the vehicle and trying to get the keys from the ignition.
- 12) That the defendant swatted my hands away from the keys and then placed the vehicle in to drive.
- 13) That the defendant was able to turn to avoid my patrol car, having a clear path to avoid striking it should he choose.
- 14) That the defendant, sped forward at a high rate of speed, and drove straight in to the driver's door of the marked police vehicle, causing severe damage.
- 15) That the driver continually drove in a reckless manner in order to escape police.
- 16) Following the defendant's vehicle with my emergency lights and sirens activated for about 12 blocks before other police officers took over the pursuit.

- 17) That my emergency lights and sirens were activated.
- 18) That the driver drove in the middle of the road, with no headlights in the dark at a rate well in excess of the posted 30 mph speed.
- 19) That the defendant was driving faster than my patrol car, which was traveling at 60 MPH.
- 20) That the damage to the patrol vehicle rendered it out of service due to the damage.
- 21) That the defendant was also arrested for DVOPV in municipal court.

I certify (or declare) under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington that the foregoing is true and correct. (9A.72.085)
