WHAT DO I DO NEXT?

First, let us express our deepest sympathy for your loss. We understand that during the shock of a loss of this importance, the first day is a blur for most people. Therefore, we have provided this brochure as a reminder of what was told to you by the Spokane Police Chaplain.

FIRST FEW HOURS

If you are considering donating tissues (corneas, bone or skin), call the Donor Information Center for advice as soon as possible. There usually is a 12-24 hour time limit from time of death.

If you wish to donate the body to science you can call BioGift or WSU-WWAMI.

Take care of pets, vehicles, etc. or assign someone else to do it.

Contact immediate family members.

FIRST COUPLE OF DAYS

Contact a Funeral Provider of your choice to make arrangements. If price is an issue, don't be afraid to comparison shop funeral home services.

Locate important papers such as pre-purchased funeral plans, insurance papers and military papers if your loved one was a veteran.

FIRST WEEKS

You have just experienced a traumatic loss of a loved one. It is suggested that you choose a trusted friend or relative to help you with the following activities, as they will be less involved emotionally.

- Have a funeral, memorial or other celebration, if desired. While family is in town, consider discussing wills, trusts, property and the residence.
- If the police took any property (i.e. billfold, guns, etc.), confirm with the Property Facility located at 4010 E Alki when items will be available for pickup. They are open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 9:30am-Noon and from 1:00pm to 4:30pm. Please bring a photo ID and have property call the SPD Chaplain's office at 624-4091 if there are any questions.
- You should request at least five to seven "Certified" death certificates in order to get into the decedent's bank accounts, insurance policies, Social Security, etc. These certificates are available directly from Spokane Vital Records. If the cause of death is "pending" you may only want to purchase one certificate until an affidavit has been filed.
- Contact decedent's employer to determine what benefits are due to you.
