

This map is a general look at ideas for the future of the City of Spokane's bicycle network. Spokane's bicycle network is currently disjointed and is in need of improvements that provide citizens with adequate and safe connections to current bicycle facilities, employment areas, recreational destinations and business centers. The black dotted lines, overlaid on top of the current bicycle network, provide a general outline for connections that may be addressed as a part of the "Master Bike Plan" update. These lines are not intended to represent specific routes but general ideas.
