

West Central Infrastructure Project

In 2007, the City of Spokane created the West Quadrant Tax Increment Finance (WQTIF) District, to raise funds for public infrastructure and community development projects in the West Central Neighborhood.

Project Goals

- Improve connectivity and safety for people walking, biking, and driving
- Support economic development
- Provide the community with meaningful opportunities to identify and prioritize streetscape, street, safety and public space improvements
- Leverage WQTIF and other funding sources to build improvements

Initial Ideas for Projects in West Central

Initial ideas for projects include a range of treatments for streets in the West Central Neighborhood to address a wide variety of safety issues at the intersection and corridor level.

High visibility crosswalks

Pavement treatments

Landscaping in curb extensions

Crosswalk painting
