

Bluff Restoration Update May 26, 2017

Work Continuing This Week

During this second week of restoration Land Expressions continued restoring the road-cut.

As of today, a total of 2,900 feet of the road cut has been regraded and hydroseeded, with 1,500 feet being on City property, replanted with trees and shrubs.

A number of the stumps and a large amount of the fallen trees have been used in the restoration effort to help direct hikers, runners, and cyclists, as well as to prevent erosion and create habitat.

All impacts of the restoration have continued to be confined to the original road cut.

Work may continue through part of the weekend, with restoration to continue on the City's property next week.

As we continue this restoration effort we ask the public to be respectful of the private property and to stay off the restored area.

Weekly updates will be provided throughout this phase of the restoration project, via email from BluffRestore@avistacorp.com as well as posting at the city website: <https://my.spokanecity.org/urbanforestry/bluff-restoration/>.
